

Young King Alexander of Greece recently paid a visit to British headquarters in Macedonia and is seen here inspecting the enemy lines through a long distance telescope. Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

American soldiers in the Aisne region, near the scene of the great battle and ready to do their part when called, form in line for the noon mess and drop on the ground to eat the hot food from the field kitchens. Copyright, Kadel & Herbert.

Gen. Pershing and Gen. Curry, commander of the Canadians (on Pershing's right), during the American leader's visit to the headquarters of the Dominion troops.

Women are furnishing much of the athletic entertainment in Great Britain these war times. This group is the Sterling Ladies Football Club, the unbeaten women champions of the country. They are all munition workers and put up a fast game. Copyright, Western Newspaper Union.

Mrs. Charles B. Dillingham, wife of the theatrical producer, is a leader in women's war work. In moments of relaxation she amuses herself with her pet bulldog.

An extremely impressive ceremony took place the other day when 300 draft men, foreign born and hence not yet American citizens, took the citizenship pledge at Camp Upton. County Clerk James F. Richardson of Suffolk county is seen administering the oath. Copyright, International Film. Passed by Committee on Public Information.